

Reconciliation step by step

(using a paper bank statement)

Bank Reconciliations are designed to highlight differences between your bank's records and those entered on SortMyBooks.

The key goal is to match your screen with your bank statement exactly and in the same order.

In what cases do you need to use manual reconciliation:

If you do not have a statement for an account (petty cash, cash account, contra account, director's loan account, drawings account).

In all other cases, it is better to use automatic reconciliation and go to Accounts, Statement.

Performing a Reconciliation

To perform a bank reconciliation manually on SortMyBooks, follow these steps:

1. Ensure you have your paper bank statement ready for reference.
2. If this is your FIRST bank reconciliation, set your opening balance first under Accounts, Bank.

Add

Name	Type	Name on Account
Quick Edit Transfer   Transactions   Past Cheques   Aliases   Delete

Sort Code:
Name on Account:

OK Cancel

3. To perform reconciliation manually, go to Accounts, Reconciliation within SortMyBooks.

4. Enter Key Details: Set the ending balance and date to match your bank statement, then click Update. Your transactions will appear on the right side of the screen.

Reconciling Your Bank

To do your bank rec, you need to have a copy of your paper bank statement in front of you. Set the ending balance, start date and end date to match what is on your paper bank statement, and click update. The transactions appearing to the right should match what is on your paper, although possibly not in the same order. Use your mouse to rearrange the transaction in the order they appear on your statement, and click match.

Troubleshooting

If there is a payment on your bank statement that is not on your screen, you can add it now. For example if you need to add bank charges, click on Miscellaneous Payments and add them. Then click on Reconciliation again to continue with your bank rec.

Checking Reconciliation

- Review Outstanding Transactions: After reconciliation, it is essential to review any outstanding transactions that didn't appear on your bank statement, such as uncashed cheques or errors, by generating a bank reconciliation report.
- Click Reports, Accounts Reports, and Bank Reconciliations. Select the desired bank reconciliation from the list. To narrow the selection, click the account drop-down on the left side and limit it to one bank account only.

6. If you see any Outstanding Payments, Carefully question any item on this list. No transactions should be on this list unless you use cheques in your business. So if you wrote a cheque and the recipient didn't cash it before your year-end, it legitimately belongs on this list. Nothing else does. If you see direct debits here, they are likely to be errors.

7. Please check that all accounts are reconciled at the end of the year. Check that the period displayed matches the Accounting Year you're working on and the Account matches the Bank Account you are checking. If the period doesn't match, click Select Range on the left-hand side. You can choose Previous Accounting Year or Next Accounting Year or scroll down to Date Range and choose your starting and ending period. Statement Closing Balance should match the closing balance on the bank statement you got from the bank covering the last day of your accounting year.

Troubleshooting Reconciliation

If there is a transaction on your bank statement that is not on your screen, this could be for a few reasons:

1. You have not entered the transaction yet. Go ahead and enter it now.
2. The transaction has been entered but with the wrong date. Correct the date. (Use Accounts, Transaction search to find it)

3. The transaction has been assigned to the wrong bank account. Fix the account. (Use Accounts, Transaction search to find it)

Then click on Reconciliation again to continue with your bank reconciliation.

If there is a transaction that is on your screen but not on your bank statement, this could be for a few reasons:

1. This is a cheque that has not been cleared yet. Do not tick it off, and you can reconcile it on a future statement. It will appear as an outstanding transaction on your bank rec report.

2. A duplicate transaction was entered. Delete it. (Use Accounts, Transaction search to find it)

3. The transaction was entered with the wrong date. Correct the date. (Use Accounts, Transaction search to find it)

4. The transaction was assigned to the wrong bank account. Correct the account. (Use Accounts, Transaction search to find it)

Then click on Reconciliation again to continue with your bank reconciliation.

Reopen a Bank Reconciliation

1. If you need to reopen a bank reconciliation, go to Tools and Locks. Under Reconciliations, select the I Understand Please Proceed button.

The screenshot shows the SortMyBooksOnline.com interface. The top navigation bar includes Home, Sales, Purchases, Accounts, Tools, and Utilities. The Tools menu is expanded, showing options like Nominals, Products, Services, Jobs/Projects, Document Type, Locks, Year End, Import, and Import Undo. A light blue box titled "Locks" contains the text: "This section allows you to open & close Vat Periods, as well as re-open Bank Recs & Till Cash-Ups. Please DO NOT re-open anymore than ONE Bank Rec or Cash-Up at a time without re-reconciling it straight away." Below this, there are three sections: "VAT Periods" with a button "I understand. Please proceed.", "Reconciliations" with a button "I understand. Please proceed.", and "Till Cash-Ups".

2. A list of bank accounts and dates for your bank reconciliations will appear, so select the date you want to open.

Reconciliations

Account reconcile is designed to protect transactions on account, which are verified against bank statement. However if you need to un-do reconciliation, you may do that here. This action is not reversible. This action will not affect any payments or invoices.

3. The “Are you sure” box will open; click the OK button to re-open.

The screenshot shows the 'Reconciliations' window with a modal dialog box titled 'Are you sure?'. The dialog box contains a warning icon and the following text: 'You are about to release transactions made during 01/12/2013 - 31/12/2013 on Current account. Reopening this bank rec will cause your start date or start balance for this rec to change in line with the previous rec. Do you wish to proceed?'. At the bottom of the dialog are 'Ok' and 'Cancel' buttons. The background shows the same table of reconciliations as in the previous image.

4. Make your adjustment and close the Reconciliation right away.

Please Note: You can only have one bank reconciliation open at a time. Once you have made changes, you need to close them before you can open a second reconciliation.
