

Award Winning Online Accounting Software

GDPR Summary

We've added this section to our Knowledge Base called GDPR. I'm sure we'll be adding even more to this as the implementation of the GDPR regulations produce more clarity around business's responsibilities. Your data's security and privacy has always been our top priority since we took the decision to develop a cloud application over 10 years ago.

We've linked all the relevant documents within this summary so that you can find them easily.

Aisling Software Ltd t/a SortMyBooks is a Data Processor. This means that we process information on your behalf. As such you are entitled to know a number of things about how we process your data which we've detailed here in our updated Privacy Statement <https://sortmybooks.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/360004838154-SortMyBooks-Privacy-Statement> Our Privacy Statement also makes reference to our updated Security Statement <https://sortmybooks.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/360004837894-Security-Confidentiality>.

If your business/organisation is acting as a Data Controller then you will need a statement for your Data Protection Officer. See details of our GDPR Statement here. <https://sortmybooks.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/360004833494-Statement-for-Data-Controller>

Please email privacy@sortmybooks.com if you have any questions about your data.

We hope this helps,
